Do solar panels cause roofs to leak?

Solar panels rarely cause roof leaks. When roof leaks occur after solar panel installation, they usually become evident within the first year.

Can solar panels cause a leaking roof?

Solar panels should not cause a leaking roof when installed correctly. However, incorrect installation or shoddy workmanship can lead to leaks. In both cases, the leak can usually be fixed, but it might be more extensive than resolving a wiring issue.

Can a new solar installer damage a roof?

New or inexperienced solar installers, or those working with inexperienced sub-contractors, may inadvertently damage the roof during installation and make it vulnerable to leaks during rain or snowstorms. Reputable solar installers understand how to work with roofing and sub-roofing materials to ensure a tight fit and no leaks.

Can solar panels be installed on a shingle roof?

Solar panels can be installed on shingle roofs, but some shingle materials may not be as compatible and may require additional consideration during installation. If the roof is not ideal for solar panels, poor installation tactics are more likely to make it leak.

Solar panel roof leaks pose a significant concern for homeowners installing photovoltaic systems. This article explains common causes, signs to watch for, inspection best practices, repair ...
