What is the Belt & Road Initiative (BRI)?

The Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) is a massive, ambitious, long-term project initiated by the Chinese government, with participation from many other countries, to facilitate trade and improve logistics in an effort to promote global economic development. In this paper, we identified the supply chain and logistics innovations linked to the BRI.

Will China expand the Belt & Road Initiative in 2025?

Chinese finance and investments into the Belt and Road Initiative countries in 2025 H1 have accelerated significantly. For 2025, a further expansion of BRI investments and construction contracts seems possible despite (or because of) global economic headwinds driven by US-led trade impositions.

Could the Belt & Road Initiative undermine regional governance?

China, a major global economic power in recent years, spearheads the Belt and Road Initiative. This has raised concerns that the BRI could undermine the established regional governance frameworks, such as the Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN) and the Eurasian Economic Union (EEU) (Gong, 2019).

Could China's Belt & Road Initiative be a catalyst for international cooperation?

China has demonstrated its willingness to engage in legal cooperation with participating countries, and the Belt and Road Initiative could serve as a catalyst for enhanced collaboration in areas such as trade, investment, and intellectual property (Wolf, 2020).
