

After a challenging 2024 (with a year-on-year decline of 3.9%), Spain presented strong growth in both battery electric vehicles (BEVs) and plug-in hybrid electric vehicles (PHEVs) in 2025.

Electrified vehicles, encompassing BEVs and PHEVs, accounted for 18% of the Spanish car market through August 2025, a substantial increase from the 2024 period.

Meanwhile, 113,784 electric cars were registered in Spain last year, reaching a market share of 12%. The industry estimated that around 190,000 electrified vehicles needed to be sold last year to meet ...

Spain will provide nearly 1.3 billion euros ($1.52 billion) to support its electric vehicle market and industry next year as part of a plan to lift the share of EVs produced in the country...

In Spain, under ten percent of new passenger car sales in 2022 were plug-in electric vehicles, nearly four percent of which were battery-electric vehicles. Comparatively, around 12.14...

Spain sees rapid EV adoption as buyers seek cleaner transport options and lower running costs. Government incentives lift demand for battery-powered models across urban and suburban zones. ...

Spain's electric vehicle (EV) market is witnessing rapid expansion, driven by rising consumer awareness of sustainable mobility and government incentives for EV adoption. Automakers are increasingly ...

Share of battery electric vehicles (BEV) and plug-in hybrid electric vehicles (PHEV) sold as a percentage of all new vehicles sold. The most recent data point is 12 percent of EV sales as share of vehicle ...

Learn about the progress of electric vehicles in Spain: rising sales, new subsidies, and leading brands. Get informed and take the leap toward sustainable mobility.

The Spain Electric Vehicle market is experiencing steady growth driven by government incentives, increasing environmental awareness, and a growing charging infrastructure. The country has set ...

Web: <https://www.scmindustries.co.za>