Are solar panels a scam?

Scammers often advertise "$0 down on owning solar panels" or "solar panels at no cost" but don't disclose that the homeowner won't own the panels. Lease and PPA agreements typically prevent homeowners from benefiting from most federal and state incentive programs and also have hidden fees and unfriendly financial terms.

How do I protect myself from solar scams?

Protecting yourself from solar scams means taking a proactive approach and following a few key strategies. One of the most effective ways to protect yourself from solar scams is to know the average cost of solar panels in your area. By researching prices, you can identify quotes that are suspiciously high or low.

What are the most common solar scams?

One of the most prevalent solar scams involves misleading lease agreements or power purchase agreements (PPAs). While these financing options are legitimate ways to access solar energy, unethical companies may misrepresent the terms or benefits of these agreements.

How do I report a solar panel scam?

If you suspect you've fallen victim to a solar panel scam, report it to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and your state's consumer protection agency. You should also file a complaint with the Better Business Bureau (BBB) and inform your family and friends.
